CALL FOR STAFF

*Learning Teaching Training Activity
14th - 18th, July 2022*

CRITICAL THINKING FEAT. POLITICAL ACTIVISM

The AIM of the 3 days training course is to upgrade the staffs' competences in order to improve teacher's / adult trainer's competences in the work with adults to bring this political activism and critical thinking closer and in order to increase their opportunities for participation.

This workshop is not a frontal lecture, rather it relies on the cooperation of the respective organizations that have to prepare and hold parts of the workshop. Each organization has at least 2 staff and will introduce and present the methods of the method set and try them out in the plenary. All participants will then reflect on these methods. The first half day includes the greeting, presentation of the participants, introduction to the topic by the Austrian partner. Another 2 days are estimated for the presentation and completion of the presented methods.

With regard to political activism and critical thinking, a city tour will be taken to places that have historically witnessed political activism. A look back at the history of the city of Nafpaktos shows us how revolutions are developing, changes have an impact, patterns repeat themselves and how people contribute to them.

This excursion is intended to encourage the participants to remember and report on similar turning points in their own national history. Forms of political activism and critical thinking of history are to be brought together and reflected upon.

Participation requirements

We invite staff to answer this call who like to work in teams and want to get to know people from different European countries in order to exchange examples. For this, of course, a certain knowledge of the English language is required and is a prerequisite. As part of the training, content is presented by the participants and active participation is required, as is the willingness to accept and give suggestions and advice from colleagues. Since the content of the training course requires skills in the use of digital tools, we would like to point out that basic knowledge of media skills is required.

Since this is an Erasmus + project and the dissemination of the project and everything related to it, i.e. photos from the workshop, etc., is required by the funding body, the consent to the publication of photos/videos for participation in the workshop.
